

Murray Satterfield – 1987 Hall of Fame Inductee

Murray Satterfield graduated from Aberdeen High School in 1944 and then went to the University of Utah playing as a starter on the basketball team. He was all-conference and played in the NCAA tournament.

After completing college, he began his teaching and coaching career in 1950 at Twin Falls High School. He later taught at Wendell High School before accepting a position in 1961 at Borah High, where he was an assistant basketball and football coach, later becoming head basketball coach.

Boise Junior College hired Satterfield in 1966 as head basketball coach and he remained there until accepting a teaching and basketball position at the College of Idaho, where he stayed until 1975.
